GROWTH THROUGH CHALLENGES

*Only when Moshiach comes (speedily in our time, amen) will we begin to appreciate the days of the exile... These days of exile are the time to work to prepare ourselves for the coming of Moshiach, speedily in our time, amen.
(Hayom Yom, 3 Menachem Av)*

The difficulties, obstacles, and darkness of exile draw out our hidden potential and abilities, causing us to grow and mature. This mode of spiritual growth is like an airplane. An airplane flies by way of the air rushing under its wings. The resistance doesn't stop the plane from moving. On the contrary, it makes the plane soar. So too, we must take advantage of the challenges and darkness of exile. We must use them as a springboard, catapulting us toward Moshiach.
