TURN OVER THE WORLD

*Any generation that [did not see] the Temple rebuilt in its days is considered as if it [was responsible for the Temple's] destruction in [that generation's] days.
(Talmud Yerushalmi, Yuma ch. 1 Sec.3 law 1)*

If a person were to see the Holy Temple burning, even if he had a heart of stone, he would do anything and everything to save the Temple. For that reason, the Torah commands us, as a matter of law, to view the destruction of the Temple and the exile as urgent situations.

We must feel personally responsible for ending exile and rebuilding the Temple. We must do everything in our abilities, and even beyond our abilities, to change the world. And we must do it now!
