WALK FOR REDEMPTION

May your springs be dispersed abroad and courses of water fill the streets. (Mishlei 5:16)

Moshiach told the Baal Shem Tov that he will come “when [his] wellsprings are spread far out.” In simple terms, our faith must permeate our entire being to the point that, even when we go “far out” into the world, it is clearly recognizable who we are and what we represent. This inner strength and conviction reveals the essence of our soul, our spark of Moshiach, which frees us from exile and brings Redemption.
