THE TORAH OF MOSHIACH

ב"ה

ABOVE, THEN WITHIN INTELLECT

I will pour My spirit on all flesh, and your sons and daughters will prophesize. (Yoel 3:1)

When Moshiach comes, there will be a great revelation of G-dliness in the world. Everyone will become more refined, and even small children will achieve the highest levels of prophecy that will include a tinge of the spirit of Moshiach.

Yet, this will not remain a revelation from above. Instead, we will understand and internalize these revelations in our human intellect. This will change the way we learn Torah. Although a prophet may not decide Torah law based on prophecy, this only prohibits a prophet from compelling people to accept his view. But if he explains what he perceives, and if he causes others to agree logically, they may rule accordingly.

Indeed, we are told that the sages would decide Torah law with the Divine spirit. This is allowed because they bring this perception into their understanding of the Torah concepts.
