THE DAY THAT IS ALL SHABBOS

*“A song with musical accompaniment for the Shabbos day.”
(Tehillim 92:1) This is a song for the Time to Come, for the day that is all Shabbos (rest) and tranquility for all of eternity.
(Talmud, Tamid, 33b.)*

During the week, our Divine service involves refining the world. On Shabbos, we rest from our work and use everything we have to serve our Creator. Similarly, the six thousand years of exile correspond to the six days of the work week. During this time, we are busy refining the sparks in the world. The time of Moshiach corresponds to the Shabbos day; we will no longer be involved in refining the world; instead, the world will help us know G-d.

Our sages commanded us to accept Shabbos before its official time by making some of the mundane week holy. In the same way, we must usher in Moshiach before the seventh millennium begins. However, unlike Shabbos, which ends after twenty-five hours, Moshiach will usher in a time of eternal Shabbos. At that time, our work of refining the world will be complete.
