LOOKING BACK

Flee, my beloved, and liken yourself to a gazelle or to a young deer . . . .

(Shir HaShirim 8:14)

The Jewish People wish that G-d never fully depart from them. Therefore, they ask that He flee like a deer. The deer runs away little by little, constantly turning its head to look back. So too, even when we cause the Divine Presence to depart, it is like a deer, constantly looking back to the place it left.

Zohar II, Shemos 14a
