LIVING MOSHIACH

UNLIMITED TORAH STUDY^{ב"ה}

In that era . . . , the occupation of the entire world will be solely to know G-d . . . , fulfilling the verse (Yishayah 11:9), “The world will be filled with the knowledge of G-d as waters cover the sea.”

(Maimonides, Mishneh Torah, Melachim 12:5)

When Moshiach comes, we will see G-dliness in everything, and all of our pursuits will be focused on knowing G-d. At this time, our ability to learn will be unlimited and will permeate every moment of our lives.

As a foretaste of Moshiach, we must begin learning Torah in an unlimited way. When learning Torah consists of opening a book or reviewing a law, it is limited. We cannot study at all times of the day, and there are certain times and places that prohibit Torah study. On the other hand, when we view every moment as a Divine lesson, our learning is infinite, a taste of Moshiach.
