The world will proceed for six thousand years [and then evolve into the World to Come].

(Talmud, Rosh Hashanah 31a)

G-d created the world in six days, and completed and perfected it on the twilight of the sixth day of creation. At that time, the Torah (Bereishis 1:31) states, “G-d saw everything He made, and it was very good.”

Similarly, the preparation for the Messianic age is a six-thousand-year process. Each millennium corresponds to one day of creation. The completion of the world will occur in the “twilight” of the sixth millennium. Our generation stands at this twilight of the completion of the world. It is our generation that will make the world a dwelling place for G-d and bring the Redemption.

With this in mind, we must contemplate and appreciate the preciousness, merit, and responsibility that we have.
